

Ok I feel like someone from CSI with all of this but to explain it all I think it is best that I start at the beginning:

A couple of days ago one of my members received a PM in xfire from a person named «xXx»BadAssMalesky (user name: badassmalesky37) asking for a kw. We replied that we were not registered with kw.com but we would scrim them. My clan is [EV]. The next day the dude came back asking for a kw and I agreed and signed up. My main purpose was to show the dude that he really wasn't that good and to stop him from talking junk. We agreed and played 3 matches of 2v2. He played under the name xXx~Malesky and his partner was xXx~brad. After we finished the third game he said that he was not in xXx but rather [XTX] and that he had 3 clans on klanwars.

A couple hours later he reported 1 game for a 2v1 from the name xtx~God (clan: [XTC] match id 51243). When I questioned him about this on xfire he said that he only uses xXx when he plays with some other dude. He then left saying that he was going to do another klanwar. I took a screenshot of this conversation with his in game stat that shows him playing under the name xXx~Malesky again. I tried to get him to report with xXx but he never did.

This peaked my interest even more so I started doing some investigating. I discovered what I am pretty sure are accounts that owned by Malesky:

Clan xXx is lead by xXx~BadAss (the first part of malesky's xfire name). In the clan info box it lists the name as Frankie Malesky and the website as <http://www.freewebs.com/xxxhaloklan/>. When you go to the website the main page is called BadAssMalesky.

Clan «xXx» is a #34 clan and is lead by «xXx»Badass and has a user named «xXx»Brad in it. They played xXx and won 2 games (Match ID = 51350 & 51352). They have also won against xxxx and xtx.

Clan xxxx is lead by xxx~Bigbird who has played and lost to «xXx» twice. Now this doesn't show a direct correlation with Malesky but I am assuming it does because of the similarity with the x's.

Clan [XTX] is lead by xtx~God who played xXx twice and lost both games: (ID= 50937 & 50963). This is who Malesky reported as playing under for our game.

Clan xtx is lead by xXx~Malesky and has played and lost against «xXx» (51354) and xXx (50767). Match 51354 had «xXx»Badass (for «xXx») winning against xXx~Malesky (for xtx).

Clan {ban} is an interesting one. At first I thought it had no involvement but as I am looking at it things seem weird. {ban} has played 1 game against xXx and 4 games against «xXx» for losses. 2 of the games against «xXx» have been a 3vs1 with {ban} playing 3 «xXx» guys. Now why would anyone play a 3v1 twice when they know they are going to lose??? I think it is Malesky or someone else in «xXx» using {ban} to push up «xXx»'s rank.

This is how far I have gotten in my investigation. There may be more accounts but my head is starting to spin from all of this. List below are the links to the various pictures I have taken.
