pfff, get over yourself. We dont ban people for being good. You were either tking, insulting people, being a general annoyance to those playing, or u were sightjacked with it looking a lot like you were hacking.

I dont care the reason that you were banned to be honest, i wont be unbanning u, even tho i could.

good call.

even tho it was 6 months ago, u still tked one of us and either got auto-banned, or banned, and particularly for tking one of us.... not even an apology for ur actions. Im behind Higgo (as always 😊) yeah - what Higgo said (and fox)

1. Seriously, if you were tk'ing - forget it.
2. If you were found to be botting (sightjacking is not 100% proof positive, but can be a pretty darn good tool to make a human judgment on) then so be it, batters are rated lower than tk'r in my book, b/c tk'rs are just stupid, batters are wannabe losers without skill that ruin a game.
3. Obnoxious idiots are also banned from the overly annoying to the downright rude and crude players that are way out of line. If you pushed us to ban for this reason, then there was a good reason as well and the ban still stands.

Auto-ban is only for x period of time, so it would automatically let you back in if it were an accident. Obviously it was on purpose which means you fit in one of the 3 main categories above. If you fit in any of the above categories, may you play elsewhere and I shall shed 0 tears.

You aren't still banned from 6 months ago, I have recently cleared the ban list so you are either a recent annoyance to someone or on the permanent list... Either way it does not look as though you are leaving that list soon.

Very well... although I can't say that I expected to be unbanned but hey.... it was worth a shot.

I know that I was banned for killing to much and I won't try to admit to/ apologize for something I didn't do so that I will be unbanned. Now did one of your members ban me because they thought I was botting? That may very well have been the case. However I can say that I do not/have not/ & will not use an aimbot or any other hacks/cheats.

If you were trying to ask if I was banned from klanwars for aimbotting then that would be a definite no (That goes for any league as well).

Look at EV's website , its one of their rules that bots will not be admitted , think he really is just good . We have many members and friends who fit in this category so why not give the benefit of the doubt unless someone can remember why he was banned such as excess language or tkin suspected botting is just 1 of the reasons he could have been banned. I dont care if it was that reason, i'm going to assume that it was the TK or annoyance thing because from the past, thats the idea i get from garniso

Looks like the ban still stands. I am suprised you posted again tho

On a good note, he has shown respect to all of us and responded a second time without childish behavior (cursing, flaming the clan, etc...). We may want to give a second chance here...

We may...But i still dont like the arrogance in his posts and personality (The bit i quoted in my first response for example). So i'm still against it myself.
