I want to make this VERY clear to all the non-LorD players about a rule we have in LorD about botting.

No LorD wil use bots - period - ever - end of story

Now that we have that straight, I want all of you to understand that this is one of many reasons it takes us so long to recruit members. This is not the only reason but is one reason - we dont bot, dont like bots, wont have a member that does bot. I am so sick and tired of hearing this or that LorD is botting. Rest assured botting is not being done in this clan or by any of its members - so get some skill and quit whining if you think anyone in LorD bots.

Bots are for want-to-be losers! Kids or players that have not taken the time or dont want to take the time to develop their skills in a game. Bots are for losers because they require it to win and in the end they never really won because it was not them, it was not skill and they are lying to themselves as much as everyone else - this is not a way to live life in or out of game. Bots ruin a great game with great players, but I assure you that NO

ONE IN LORD BOTS!

Also consider this - players that have played as long as many of us have know Bloodgulch probably better than any other clan out there. We know where players hide, where players go, where things develop. We live in Bloodgulch and know every nook and cranny in it. We are forever checking all possible places as we move -this means we have maturity and experience in the game, we know the game, we know the terrain and we know the movements. We dont need any "aid" to be good - we are good because we have taken the past couple years or more to develop our skills and be the some of best damn players in the gulch.

Seriously? ROFL!

If you think a LorD bots - you think wrong. If you think you can prove it, we are all interested, but I promise you that you will not find a LorD botting. I am so sick of hearing this from no-skill players who think they know.

End of story - LorD members do not bot!

Have a nice day.

LorD»Wr^ath is like UFO's, damn convincing information and documented sightings, but are they really real - you decide.

when i first started playing in u guys server bout a year or so ago, yeah, i sometimes questioned whether a few of you did or not. But as cav said, i didn't realize Lord server was bg strictly, and that i was such a NOOB!!! Took me like 5 or 6 months to finally go positive when the server was fillied with lords.....and i'm still a nooB!! ha bg MASTERS+ hog masters + pistol masters= Lord Clan (who has no need to bot)

ok, i'm through brown nosing!! ha
